New Instructor Application

The Academy for Excellence in Local Governance, a certificate training program for Maryland local government officials, is looking for instructors to teach several of the program's "core" classes. Topics receiving a core designation are those whose content is deemed essential in carrying out the responsibilities of a local government official in Maryland. For additional details regarding the Academy program, visit the School of Public Policy website. To find the current core class descriptions, click on "county track" or "municipal track."
