

MACo Symposium

Fighting Human Trafficking With Awareness, Advocacy, and Action

Wednesday, June 12, 2019 | 9:30 am—3:30 pm

Blue Heron Center, Quiet Waters Park, Annapolis, MD

Human trafficking is the fastest growing and second largest criminal industry in the world. Maryland's location along the I-95 corridor makes it a hot spot for this illicit, dangerous, and dehumanizing web of activity. At this symposium, learn how counties along with their state and community partners are working together to raise awareness and take action to stop human trafficking in Maryland.

About the Symposium:

- MACo's annual symposium focuses on an important policy topic – this year, we're discussing human trafficking
- Expected attendance: 75+ county elected officials, decision-makers, and professionals
- Attendees will discuss how to spot human trafficking, the legal and logistical hurdles of prevention, enforcement, and recovery, and what counties can do to fight this massive criminal industry and protect our residents
- Members-only event – commercial representatives will be put on a waitlist and pay a fee to register, if space allows
